Transformation at Scale

Most law firms know what needs to change in how they attract, develop and retain their people. Consistently executing that change is much harder. This session explores what it takes to deliver talent transformation at scale — the resources, expertise and repeatable methodologies that turn good intentions into sustained practice, including the effective use of technology and AI.

Rob Morris
Global Lead, MSO Services, Opensity Solutions | Chief Growth & Transformation Officer, Kinstellar | Founder, Morris Advisory Solutions
